

Care & Maintenance

Wall and Ceiling ABC Tiles

Color alterations (even when a fabric is made out of solution-dyed acrylic yarns) can occur in case of negligence in fabric care. Ensure your products are shielded from liquids and dirt. When spills occur, avoid residuals getting permanently embedded in the fiber's structure by cleaning up spills promptly. Gently pad the fabric's surface with a clean towel to prevent stains from settling in. By taking these precautions, you can extend the lifespan and maintain the appearance of your products for years to come.

End of Life

If you find that a Seastex product has reached the end of its usable life and you plan to refurbish the interior where our products are placed, please do not hesitate to contact us.

As a part of our circular business model, we offer a free collection service for our products and are committed to compensating you for the byssus recovered, based on their weight. The compensation price will vary depending on the condition of the byssus. This approach not only ensures a seamless disposal process but also contributes to our goal of keeping byssus into circulation, minimizing their impact on the environment.

We prioritize sustainability and the responsible management of our products.
